Some time since an amendment to the State Constitun was adopted permitting the classification of property for the purpose of taxation. At the last session of the they can by individual effort, no gressmen. Who or what is this Tax League that is spending so them daily. They should seek in the contest with Mr. Jaggers much money in the effort to have this particular measure to find a remedy for any trouble were: Grover Sizemore, of Lesmade a law? What character of property is the League anxious to protect? If we knew who were the members of this league, and in what character of property they are cessfully tried. interested we might discover the reason for their frenzy to have this particular bill become a law by the special things that press associations can sion that Western Kentucky has session method.

I have studied the proposed law carefully and impartially. I may be obtuse, but all that I can see in it a horizontal reduction of the tax rate from 55 to 40 cents on the hundred dollars. This would be good if the State revenue receipts equaled legitimate expenditures, and there influence legislation that might was not a three-million dollar debt to be paid.

It is also reasonable to suppose that all thinking Kentuckians will object to having so vital a question as the taxation system passed upon by the same body of men possible. He should go to these who acknowledged their incompetence by refusing to con- meetings prepared to ask an insider the matter last winter.

There is a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere. It intelligent answer. Facts, condiis hardly probable that all this frenzied agitation for a is hardly probable that all this frenzied agitation for a special session of the Legislature, with its tremendous tost, at a time when the State is groaning with debt, is prompted by philanthropic motives. And especially when the special session of the Legislature, with its tremendous tost, at a time when the State is groaning with debt, is prompted by philanthropic motives. And especially when tittle good to their members. As the special session of the Legislature, with its tremendous tous and results should be discussed.

Some press associations are good. Wheat has reached $1.86 per bushel; corn good. Wheat has reached $1.86 per bushel; corn good at $1.00; have $15 per ton; aggs $25 per decir. the proposed measure is, to say the least, questionable in its promise of relief. The farmer is the burden-bearer in tions develop a high degree of the support of the State, and instead of relieving him the proposed measure seemingly adds to his burdens.

Let's smoke the members of the Tax League out of their holes and see who they are. Let's find out the kind of property in which they have their money invested.

If they are chiefly interested in stocks and bonds, in railroads and public service corporations, or in the distilling and brewing concerns, we will know where to look for the elusive joker in the measure. Frankly, I am suspicious of anything daddied by the present State administration, and hope that no crisis will come that will make it remotely necessary to reconvene that body of incompetents known as our present General Assembly.

Kentucky is indeed in a pitiable condition. She is a ship adrift upon the ocean of time without a competent hand to guide her. Buffeted and tossed by the conflicting waves, the only cargo she takes aboard is debt, debt, debt. The reef of bankruptcy looms up ahead, and still the Captain hold his course. The whiskey crew would wreck the an acre by simply testing the The lowest wage paid here is ship rather than surrender control. The hope for the State is the Legislature that we elect in November. That body of men should be patriots. Kentucky needs the services of her patriots more than at any time in her history. The men we elect must have brains in addition to patriotism. The financial and moral welfare of the State is at stake and those who go as members of the next General Assembly determined to faithfully and intelligently serve the people may expect no aid from the administration.

There has not been a competent business administration in Kentucky since Beckham's. The new Capitol is a monument to the fidelity with which he served the people. It is fixed, immovable; it is not susceptible of being bartered or disposed of, or it would have gone the way of that magnificent surplus that he left in the treasury. What a pity, what a misfortune for the people of Kentucky, that the offices of United States Senator and Governor are incompatible. Senator Beckham could manage Kentucky's business, in the intermissions of Congress, better than it has been managed since he was Governor.

But, in this neck of the woods, we are asking for information. Who are the members of the State Tax Have you gone through with it gards to all. League, and with whom are they in league? Well, it doesn't make any difference.

The point is that one of these two ancient gentlemen IN-VENTED the SAW. Pliny says Daedalus did. Apollodorus gives the credit to Talos.

It happened this way: Talos (or Daedalus, if you prefer Pliny) found the jawbone of a snake and employed it to cut through a piece of wood. Then he formed an instrument of iron like it and thus gave the world the first saw.

And the good old universe has been sawing wood ever since.

Dear Sir:

Talk about "PREPARED-NESS"-I'd like to see anybody in this good old U.S.A. who is better prepared than I am so far as Fall Fabrics for Holiday clothes are concerned.

Just leave it to me for the snappy styles, the proper patterns and the other necessary details that go to make up the sort of suit that YOU and every other stylishly dressed man will want to put on his back, when Chistmas morning jingles her way in Place your Holiday suit or overcoat order with me right now. It won't take a minute or two to take your correct measure. My TAPE is always on the job.

Ask any of the "boys" around town who are now wearing one of my productions, what they think of me as a TAILOR? Am I PREPARED?

"Well-I should say so." Very truly yours. A. T. FERGUSON.
